

Global Studies Graduate Conference 2022

Date: November 11th, 2022

Venue: ÖFSE - Österreichische Forschungsstiftung für Internationale Entwicklung, Sensengasse 3, Alois-Wagner-Saal, 1090 Vienna

01:30 pm – 1:45 pm

Welcome and Introduction

By Steffi Marung (Acting Head of the EMGS Consortium, Leipzig University)

1:45 pm – 2:45 pm

Panel 1: Rethinking female activism: Transnational and transregional perspectives

Chair: Valeska Huber (University of Vienna)

Hanna Rössner: (Socialist) Women's Cooperation in Times of Upheaval: The SWAPO Women's Council, the Democratic Women's Union, and their Sewing Project in Tsumeb, Namibia, 1990-1992

Anna Katharina Osterlow: Imagining technological futures: Transnational feminist tech and data activism as a counter-dynamic in global processes of digitalisation

2:45 pm – 3:45 pm

Panel 2: Global Climate Challenges: Local vulnerabilities, international responses

Chair: Stephan Kaschner (Leipzig University)

Gwladys Chanard: An Assessment of Climate Mobility on Vulnerable Lands like The Maldives and the International Response Within a Politically Loaded Field

Duygun Elif Su: Minilateralism is the new multilateralism? Comparative indicator-based research on the effectiveness of lowcarbon clubs at COP26

3:45 pm – 4:00 pm: Break

4:00 pm – 5:30 pm

Panel 3: Mobility regimes in critical perspective: Perceptions, narratives and spatial imaginations

Chair: Eric Vanhaute (Ghent University)

Annika Maurer: "Germans in the Cameroons": A Training Requirement Assessment for German expats in development organisations in Cameroon - An intercultural perspective

Rasmus Göthberg: Diplomats' making of Mali as a space of intervention

Moiz Rehan: Bureaucratic Violence Faced by SOGI Asylum Applicants in Austria: The Politics, Procedure, and Consequences of the Asylum System

5:30 pm – 5:45 pm

Closing remarks

Steffi Marung